Did You Know?

Lights are the most common CSA violation.

An inoperative lamp is the most common violation in 32 states since CSA (Compliance Safety and Accountability) debuted.

Avoid a potential violation, check your lights regularly. They are inexpensive and relatively replace, you can do it yourself. Roadmaster offers a variety of lights and light brackets. These rear center light panels mount under the frame. An easy and accretive way to cover the back of your truck. Light panels come in Chrome or polished stainless steel and are preassembled.

Stay in compliance and avoid those annoying infractions, but most important for your safety and the safety of others.
